COMNAVSURFPAC INSTRUCTION 4500.1A

Subj: SCREENING AND REDISTRIBUTION OF EXCESS MEDICAL MATERIAL

Ref: (a) COMNAVSURFPACINST 4000.1E
(b) NAVSUP P485

1. Purpose. To promote cost savings within the Surface Force by establishing procedures for the screening and redistribution of excess medical material.

2. Scope. This instruction applies to all excess medical supplies and equipment in end-use status within the Force, with the following exceptions:

a. Material not meeting the criteria for return as set forth in reference (a).

b. Precious metals and precious metals bearing residue covered by other TYCOM directives.

c. Medical material carried in the Naval Stock Fund (SAC 207) account.

d. Medical material designated as Prepositioned War Reserve Material Stock (PWRMS).

e. Material covered in directives issued by other systems commands.

3. Cancellation. COMNAVSURFPACINST 4500.1. (A)

4. Policy. Force Medical will assume the responsibility for receipt of excess medical material from active and decommissioned ships in the Force.

5. Action. Unit commanders and commanding officers shall utilize the TYCOM screening and redistribution system for medical material whenever possible to reduce expenditures of existing funds. They shall review excess material lists to assure use of property to the maximum practicable extent to meet existing requirements. The following procedures for disposal and requisition will be used:

a. Material identified as non-functional and items with expired shelf life will be surveyed in accordance with reference (b).

11 FEB 1993

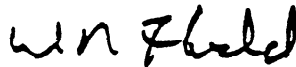

b. Force Medical will review all requests for material for Authorized Medical Allowance List (AMAL) and ship compatibility and for availability within the redistribution system. If approved, the item(s) will be issued to the requesting unit at no cost.

c. All transactions regarding issues and receipts will be accompanied by the DD Form 1149 Requisition and Invoice/Shipping Document, filled out in accordance with reference (b).

d. Units within six months of deployment shall have first priority and all other units are on a "first come first serve" basis.

e. Units outside the San Diego, CA area should contact their local group/squadron medical staff for assistance in obtaining needed supplies. (R)

6. Responsibility. COMNAVSURFPAC Code N01M6 shall receive, inventory, store and issue excess medical material and equipment. The Medical Material Redistribution Center, (MMRC) supervisor will segregate, secure appropriate storage, and maintain a data and audit trail of all transactions. All ships and units identifying usable, excess medical materials will contact the MMRC supervisor prior to disposition through other channels. (R)
